

THE PARISIANER

CHRONICLES OF OUR PLANET

A POETIC TOUR COMBINING
SCIENCE AND FICTION TO EXPLORE
THE NATURAL HISTORY OF OUR PLANET

The fruit of a collaboration with the artists' collective The Parisianer, the exhibition presents large, original illustrations that bring to life the great naturalist discoveries, from geological times... to the distant future.

A JOURNEY BACK IN TIME

Understanding the origin of life, exhibiting a diplodocus for the first time, discovering the sexuality of plants... 21 covers of a fictitious magazine retrace the highlights of our planet's history and of naturalist discoveries.

Brecht Vandembroucke

COMBINING SCIENCE AND FICTION

By depicting illustrious figures such as Voltaire or Buffon in humorous situations, the exhibition also imagines the future of our planet through science fiction scenarios about the melting of the ice cap or the colonisation of Mars.

Aurélien Pollet

SIX AUDIO RECORDINGS

Six of the illustrations are accompanied by sound recordings of the adventures of Jeanne, an intrepid young reporter who travels through time, meeting historical and fictional figures.

Produced in 2021 by the Muséum national d'Histoire naturelle, presented at the Jardin des Plantes
